Principal's Message

Mr Pugh has been working in education since 2004 with over 10 years' experience of school senior leadership in the UK and UAE. Mr Pugh holds a Bachelor's degree in education, is a Level 2 qualified school inspector and has completed his National Professional Qualification for Headship (NPQH). A passion for developing future leaders, Mr Pugh facilitates the NPQ programme to train the next generation of school leaders in the UAE. Through his 10 years in school management, he has strategically supported schools graded as outstanding, worked in leadership teams tasked with taking schools out of special measures, in addition to leading Al Ain British Academy to become Al Ain's first outstanding BSO (British schools Overseas) school .

Mr Pugh takes great pride in welcoming you to Al Ain British Academy as Principal of the school. He joined Al Ain British Academy on the school's Senior Leadership team in 2019, bringing proven educational and assessment strategies to the school and building a strategic team of middle leaders to ensure each individual child gets the very best education every day. His philosophy is that each member of the Al Ain British Academy community should feel safe and happy coming to school, while being exposed to challenge, inquiry and excitement. Thus, our pupils will make progress every day, enjoying the learning experiences they are immersed in.

In the last year, the school has had the highest GCSE results at grades 9-8 in Abu Dhabi, seen individual pupils achieve the highest A-level mark in the world, reach the World Scholar's Cup finals at Yale University, USA, but also break Guinness World Records, win sporting events, robotics, coding, Quran competitions, run charitable campaigns and so much more. In summer of 2025, Mr Pugh was delighted that Al Ain British Academy won the ADEK award for student progress in their standardized assessments, which came with a 125,000AED prize.

The UAE, Aldar and Al Ain British Academy has a wealth of opportunities available to children. Mr. Pugh believes this is a time to inspire children and allow them to investigate a wealth of learning beyond the classroom, developing their love for sports, arts, drama, as well as collaborating with those similar and different from ourselves as we look to develop tolerant, visionary leaders of the future for the U.A.E and globally.

Ian Pugh

Principal, Al Ain British Academy

Parent Testimonials

“ We’ve been with Al Ain British Academy since FS1, and it’s been an amazing journey. Our children (now in Year 6 and Year 4) have grown into confident, happy learners thanks to the dedicated teachers, supportive counselors, and strong curriculum. As expats, the school truly became a second home for us—a warm, welcoming community that always made us feel like family.

Special thanks to Mr. Pugh for his consistent support and guidance over the years, and to Ram, the always-smiling security guard who brightens our mornings and reminds us of the kindness at the heart of this school.

So grateful to be part of the Al Ain British Academy family! ”

Student Leadership

Curriculum Information

The English National Curriculum is among the most in-demand study options the world, respected for its high academic standards and focus on developing confidence and individual thinking. The learning pathway is delivered through enquiry or project-based learning, a method of teaching which inspires a love of learning and deepens a student's knowledge by challenging them to complete real-world tasks. As a result, the English National Curriculum is one of the most engaging of all.

In Primary, the National Curriculum for England defines two 'Key Stages'; Key Stage 1 [Years 1 and 2] and Key Stage 2 [Years 3 to 6]. The curriculum builds on the fundamental skills developed through the Early Years curriculum in Foundation Stage 1 and 2 [3 to 5 years old]. The National Curriculum Core subjects are English, Mathematics and Science. With additional subjects offered, including Information and Communication Technology; History; Geography; Modern Foreign Languages [Year 5 upwards]; Music; Art and Design; Drama; Physical Education and Personal, Health and Social Development. As per the Ministry of Education regulations, Arabic, Islamic Studies and Social Studies are taught throughout the school. The curriculum gives a complete learning experience to all children. Children do not only learn in formal lessons or in the activities prepared by the teachers. At AABA, significant emphasis is also given to "the hidden curriculum". School life and education for all children is not wholly based on academics. The development of our students in a holistic manner, focusing on their personal, social and emotional health, leadership, moral education and conduct to support their wider development is key.

Our school values- Respect, Responsibility and Resilience are truly embed this throughout the school. A curriculum not seen only in terms of experiences, but also the acquisition of knowledge and skills we believe students should acquire to prepare them for life beyond school. In planning the curriculum and putting it into practice, we ensure that excellence is pursued and valued, that lessons are challenging and have appropriate pace and direction. Whether the children are taught individually, in smaller groups or as part of a whole class, the teaching should meet the children's individual needs.

Throughout the year, on-going assessments take place in each year group. Additionally, at certain times of the year there will be more formal assessments, including GL Progress tests and benchmark/external tests in reading, mathematics and Arabic.

In Secondary, the National Curriculum for England defines three 'Key Stages', Key Stage 3 [Years 7-9], Key Stage 4 [Years 10 & 11] and Key Stage 5 [Years 12 & 13]. In Key Stage 3, students are provided with a broad and balanced curriculum, encompassing the key subject faculties including English, Maths, Science, Creative Arts, Humanities, Languages, Physical Education and Computing.

At Key Stages 4 students work towards the GCSE qualifications, one of the most rigorous and highly regarded programmes of study in the world. Students must take English, Maths, and one Science, with the remaining subjects chosen through our guided options process. They will then complete their secondary education at Key Stage 5 by undertaking A-levels (Advanced Levels), one of the most rigorous and rewarding courses in the world.
